Germans Stalled Along Entire Russian Front

Russo-Japanese Crisis Heightens as Berlin Hurls Warnings at U. S.

By the Associated Press
Russia's Red armies claimed the most extensive series of victories in the war with Germany Friday, covering every major theater from Rostov-on-Don in the Far south to the frozen Arctic regions of Murmansk. Only in the Crimea, according to Soviet accounts, was the situation critical.

Before Moscow the Red armies are pressing furious counter attacks and were reported to have stormed and recaptured 20 villages in the Krimin sector. German military dispatches admitted that the Russians were attacking in "considerable forces" with tanks and infantry.

In the battle of Leningrad the Soviet radio said Russian troops had broken through the Nazi siege lines around that old Czarist capital which the Germans said was "virtually sealed off from the rest of the USSR."

Division Routed
At Rostov, guarding the north approaches to the Caucasus, the Russian said they routed a motorized division of Hitler's elite guards and reported the entire Nazi drive in that key sector was all but stalled.

Tass, official Russian news agency, also reported that tank-led German shock troops were thrown back from the outskirts of Tula, 100 miles south of Moscow, after a bloody two-weeks battle.

"German troops here Thursday are only German corpses Friday," Tass said.

Tass also asserted that the Germans hurled 15 consecutive tank attacks at the little village of Rodzeany, on the southern outskirts of Tula, and gained a temporary foothold before being smashed back with heavy losses.

Russo-Jap Relations
In the Far East relations between Russia and Japan took a turn for the worst as Moscow replied to Tokyo's protest over the sinking of the steamer Kachimar, allegedly hit by a floating Soviet mine and informed quarters said all of Japan's major claims were rejected.

Simultaneously the Tokyo war official announced a drastic revision of Japanese conscription regulations and many thousands will be subject to military service.

Axis reaction to the revision of the U. S. neutrality act, which permits armed merchantships to go anywhere, was highlighted by explosive warnings from Berlin.

Authorized Nazi quarters said the next few days would show what a dangerous path the U. S. had taken and asserted that congress had been duped by false presentation of fact.

President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull.

On Russo-German warfront Soviet dispatches reported a series of smashing counter blows at Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of Moscow and at Malyaroslavets, 65 miles south of the capital and in the far north around the port of Murmansk.

The Soviet radio said the initiative in the 13-day-old battle of Moscow had now definitely passed into Red army hands.

Recruiting Is to Begin for 2-Ocean Navy

Navy Needs 15,000 Men a Month; Campaign Begins Next Week

At the suggestion of Secretary of Navy Knox, The Star will help the Navy in giving ambitious local young men information about the opportunities the "Two-Ocean" Navy offers them for technical training and advancement as they serve their country in its emergency.

According to an announcement made public in Washington, a limited number of additional men between the ages of 17 and 50 will be given a chance, by enlistment in the Navy or Naval Reserves, to get to the top, with big pay, in jobs which by their aptitude and as a result of examination they show themselves fitted, from among nearly 10 different trades and vocations. These include such callings as aviation machinist, dental technician, photographer, diesel engineer, radio technician, electrician, welder, storekeeper, and baker. Enlisted men may also qualify for commissions as officers.

Naval Schools
Beginning next week, the Navy plans for a limited time to accept new qualified recruits for training. These men will be sent to one of four Naval Training Stations and may have a chance to go to a Navy Trade School even before assignment to the fleet. During this period they will be given regular Navy pay and Navy's free schooling is valued at hundreds of dollars.

Pictures Wanted of Local Boys in Navy

The Star wants pictures of Hempstead, Nevada and Lafayette county boys who are now serving in the United States Navy—to be published in connection with the forthcoming Navy Recruiting Campaign. Pictures should be brought to the newspaper office immediately, and all will be returned. Here are instructions:

1. Write on back of picture the boy's name, and name and address of parents. Advise when the boy enlisted, his class, and his present location.
2. Any clear picture will do, glossy photos being preferred. DO NOT SUMMIT COLORED OR TINTED PICTURES. Whether the boy is in uniform or not makes no difference.
- Also, any letters written home by local sailors, telling of naval life, will be appreciated; and The Star will return these to their owners just as it will return the photographs.

"Never in the history of the United States has there been greater opportunity for loyal young Americans to serve their country and build their futures than right now," said Secretary Knox.

In outlining the many advantages offered by enlistment in the United States Navy, The Star points out: "It is possible for a bright young man to increase his pay seven times during his first enlistment and he can earn as much as $126 a month. This monthly figure is actually worth much more when it is remembered that the man has few living expenses and is provided with the finest of medical and dental care."

"You have all your food and lodging, and also your original outfit of clothing provided by Uncle Sam free. In addition there are free sports and entertainment—even to the latest Hollywood pictures. On top of this you get free travel and adventure in colorful places—a thing few civilians can afford."

Need 11,000 a Month
"When you consider the size of this country and the fact that the Navy will select only 15,000 applicants a month from many times that number throughout the United States, the quotation, 'Many are called but few are chosen,' will apply to local young men interested."

"Navy men are a 'hand-picked' lot. Candidates must be men of more than average intelligence and ambition, of fine moral character and must have the written recommendation of at least two local townsmen."

The Star has just received from Washington a supply of free illustrated booklets for all men interested and, in addition, will welcome inquiries from young men who wish to look into the new and greater opportunities the Navy now offers for training for future civilian careers as they serve their country now in its emergency.

Anti-Nazi Blacklist 'Grayed Down' to Avoid Hitting Friendly Guatemala

It's coffee, not dramatic scenery like that pictured above, that supports Guatemala. Hence, Uncle Sam has "grayed down" his blacklist against German coffee plantation owners, who are so numerous that a fully-imposed boycott would seriously disrupt the economy of the country.

U. S. Marines to Leave China

Government Decision Announced by Roosevelt

WASHINGTON — (P)— President Roosevelt announced Friday that the U. S. government had decided to withdraw American marines from Shanghai, Tientsin, and Peiping, China.

"That will take all American marines out of China," the President told a press conference. About 750 of them have been stationed in the three cities. Roosevelt would not discuss capital speculation about the withdrawal of troops being linked with efforts to obtain a better understanding between this country and Japan.

He said he had no definite plan yet to see the Japanese envoy Saburo Kurusu who is flying to the United States to discuss the Far Eastern situation.

Asked whether he thought the war could be avoided in the Pacific Roosevelt said he certainly hoped so, but declined to give a yes or no answer to an inquiry regarding how this might be done.

He asserted "that if he said no somebody might use the wrong interpretation and if he said yes it would be purely guessing."

In response to another question Roosevelt said he thought the American people was aware of the seriousness of the problem in the Far East but said it was difficult to answer whether anyone overrated its seriousness.

He asked what overrated meant and what seriousness meant in that connection.

"It might mean war," a reporter remarked and Mr. Roosevelt said he sincerely trusted not.

Violent Quake Hits California

Much Property Destroyed in Los Angeles Suburb

LOS ANGELES — (AP)— A violent earthquake, most severe in 8 years, drove guests from a large hotel, toppled bricks and cornices in the suburbs, split a 55,000 gallon oil tank and damaged gas and power lines Friday.

Guests fled the 30-room Hotel Torrance in suburban Torrance as the tremor showered bricks in the street. Firemen condemned the building and said a few others would be condemned and torn down.

The earthquake occurred at 12:42 a. m. (3:42 EST) and lasted from a few seconds to 18 or 20 in Torrance, Garden and Long Beach, the hardest hit areas.

Pro-Nazis Hold Most of Coffee Plantations There

By WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
GUATEMALA CITY — The "blacklist" ban on German-controlled business in Guatemala has been faded to a dark Oxford-gray in order to avoid wrecking the economy of a country whose friendly cooperation is essential to American policy.

Guatemala, economically speaking, is coffee. The great coffee fincas (plantations) are the financial life-blood of the country. Most of them are German-controlled. Hence a completely rigorous ban on coffee exports to the United States from sources which are "black-listed" as sympathetic to the Nazi cause, would have seriously crippled Guatemalan life.

The Germans of Guatemala, 80 per cent of whom are, by choice or by compulsion, sympathetic to the Nazi regime, have been making the most of this prospect in recent months. They howled loudly that the United States was going to ruin Guatemala; that they would have to go out of business, throwing out of work thousands of Guatemalans, their employees.

Easing the Effects of the Blacklist
So, to take the teeth out of such charges, and to prevent undue hardship to Guatemalan business in general, the United States has relaxed the blacklist to allow a limited amount of the coffee production of blacklisted firms to be sold in the United States. An exact figure is being determined which would give the German fincas enough income to stay in business, keep their employees and equipment, yet make no considerable profits.

This proposal was the United States' reply to a presidential decree of a few weeks ago which would in many respects have completely nullified the purpose of the blacklist. This provided that all coffee of blacklisted firms be sold through the Central Bank of Guatemala, which would form the proceeds allot enough money to the German plantation owners to pay their help, keep their plantations in repair, and place the rest of the money in escrow, to be returned after the war.

That sounds fair enough on the face of it, but a second thought shows that when the great bulk of this escrowed income was turned over to the German owners at some future date, it would place them in a position of domination such as even they had never attained before.

German Bud Faith Demonstrated
The bad faith of the German coffee growers has already been amply demonstrated. Many of them, though their own accounts were bulging with cash, have been seeking loans on their crops from the Central Bank. The evident purpose was to default the loans, allow the Central Bank to foreclose on the crop, and then sell it itself. Such a sale would be by the Guatemalan bank, and not by the German planters, and it might be difficult for the United States to exercise its final right to buy from whom it pleased.

There is sufficient coffee available from genuinely Guatemalan sources to more than fill the U. S. quota even as recently extended. The new concession made to German growers, was purely one aimed at preventing any disruption in the Guatemalan economy, and will be so adjusted as to keep intact the general purpose of the blacklist, which is to prevent the kind of profitable business by Nazi-sympathizing Germans as enables them to do Hitler's work in Central America.

Plane Carrying U. S. Soviet Envoy Missing

TEHERAN, Iran — (P)— (Nov. 14)— The Soviet embassy said Friday that they still had no news of the plane in which U. S. Ambassador Lawrence Stenhardt, Russian Ambassador Maxim Litvinoff and about a dozen others are reported missing en route from Kuibyshev, Russia.

The British legation here reported that an American woman journalist, Alice Moats and an American magazine writer, Quentin Reynolds (Collier's Magazine) were among the passengers.

The Russian embassy said it had received up to nightfall no reports from either southern Russia or north Iranian airfields along the route.

Conference on Coal Strike

UMW Union Votes to Continue Plans for Union Shop

WASHINGTON — (P)— President Roosevelt, asking the CIO United Mine Workers and Steel company heads to continue negotiations to avert a strike in the captive coal mines, told them Friday that the government "will never compel the manly non-union miners affected by the dispute to join the union."

Notes to Continue
WASHINGTON — (P)— The policy committee of the United Mine Workers voted Friday to continue the UMW fight for a union shop in coal mines which supply the nation's big steel mills.

The committee directed the union's executive officers to continue their efforts to secure a settlement of the controversy and to provocations of the agreement.

Under this agreement all soft coal mines have granted a union shop to the CIO union. The defense mediation board recently rejected the union's demand for a union shop in the coal mines.

The committee adopted a resolution commending and approving the action of Philip Murray, CIO president, Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer and other CIO officials in resigning from the mediation board as a result of the board's decision in the mine case.

The resolution said that the policy would stand by to receive other reports from the executive officers pending a conference at the White House with President Roosevelt and Steel company officials.

The resolutions were adopted after leaders John L. Lewis, Murray and Kennedy had reviewed recent developments in the dispute.

Lewis, Murray and Kennedy left the meeting as soon as the resolution was made public to go to the conference. They and steel officials summoned by Roosevelt in an effort to settle the dispute with a strike.

Hope, Malvern Meet Friday

Bobcats Seeking Fourth Win Against Strong Leopards

The Hope Bobcat team left Friday for Malvern where they will clash with the Leopards in a non-conference battle.

A win for the Bobcats would give the locals their fourth of the year. Chances for a victory, however, are somewhat slim as the Malvern lads are considered to be on par with Smackover, a team which downed the Cats by a lop-sided score in the second game of the season.

On the other hand the Hope boys have improved considerably since the Smackover contest and there are fans who claim, after watching Hope operate against Prescott last week, that the Bobcats may pull a surprise.

Coach Hammors reported the Hope team to be in fair shape and said that reserve material, as in previous games, has been their greatest handicap. In most games against stronger teams this year the Cats have put a good scrap in the first half but the lack of reserves tells in the final two periods.

Following the Malvern contest Friday night local fans will get a chance to see one of the strongest teams in the state in action when the North Little Rock Wildcats come to Hope November 21 for a conference contest.

It will be the last home game for the Bobcats, who wind up the season against the Pine Bluff Zebras at Pine Bluff Thanksgiving Day.

Plane Carrier Is Torpedoed Off Gibraltar

Huge British Vessel Reported Sunk Many Times by Germans

LONDON — (P)— The 3-year-old $16,000,000 aircraft carrier Ark Royal was torpedoed late Thursday east of Gibraltar, probably by an Italian submarine and sank early Friday despite desperate efforts to bring the listing giant safely to port.

She carried down with her an undisclosed number of her crew of about 1,600 men who remained aboard in a struggle to save the ship.

Most of Crew Saved
"A very large number of the ship's company was taken off," the admiralty announced, and indications were that the personnel losses were not heavy.

The story of the sinking pieced together from the admiralty announcement and word in authoritative quarters was that the Ark Royal was not in action when she was torpedoed and that she was en route to Gibraltar.

The suggestion was that an Italian submarine was the victor although there was no positive identification. Try to Save Ship

Many of the company remained aboard after the hits and helped to keep the Ark Royal afloat and in tow during the hours of darkness. Many worked to the very end.

She finally rolled under the sea short of Gibraltar and safety.

The loss was a belated fulfillment of many a German claim since the beginning of the war that the carrier had been sunk.

The concise communique said the 22,000-ton floating airfield sank somewhere on some undisclosed date while in tow after being torpedoed. She was the third aircraft carrier lost by the British in the war and the newest of them all.

Health Unit to Sell Buttons

Group Organizes to Promote Health in Hempstead

"A chair is no stronger than its weakest link" and an effort is being made in Hempstead county to keep healthy people in healthy surroundings.

Each community of the nation has organized a "Health for Defense" committee and it is the purpose of that committee to work with the state and county health units in carrying out their health programs. The local committee is in need of funds to promote this work.

Saturday, November 15, has been designated as "Health for Defense Day," and the local organization will put on sale, throughout the city and county, buttons that will mark the wearer as one who has cooperated with the committee and has helped foster this patriotic movement having a greater part in furthering national defense.

Every citizen of the county can do his part by buying a button for "Health for Defense."

Dr. J. G. Martindale heads the button sale committee.

Girls who have been asked to assist in the button sale will meet with Mrs. M. M. McCoughlan at the Hope Furniture Co. Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Placecards were sold Friday by the finance committee to local business houses.

Bible's Figures of Speech Clarify

Meanings of the Teachings of Christ

Text: John 15:1-10

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of Advance

The Bible is a book amazingly rich in illustrations and figures of speech. These are literary devices to make meanings plain as well as to enrich the expression of thought. We are given a statement of resemblance which may make vivid in a few words something that much explanation might only make more obscure.

These verses from the 15th chapter of John present one of the clearest and most effective figures in all Scripture applied to a relationship of inward significance and much mystery—the relation of the disciple to the Master, of the Christian to the Christ.

Instead of saying "the disciple is one with me, we are from the same root, we have the same substance, we partake of the same beauty and we have a common part in the fruitfulness of good living," Jesus puts it in a figure that once appeals to the eye, the heart and the mind. "I am the vine, ye are the branches."

His listeners, all vineyard folk, grasp that better than if it had been expressed in a long sermon. They also understood that the vine is of no use unless it bears fruit. So Jesus links the lesson of the vine and of union with himself with the matter of bringing forth the fruit of Christian character and good works.

God has a meaning and purpose for our lives. It is that these lives should be productive, and He is glorified when His children fulfill this purpose. This is our union with Christ. Herein is my Father glorified that ye bear much fruit, so shall ye be my disciples.

What are the fruits of the Christian life? What does it mean in this sense to be good disciples of the Master? Paul has told all this in the lesson we studied not long ago on "the fruits of the spirit"—love, joy, peace, long-suffering, meekness.

Jesus did not need to list these fruits of the spirit as Paul found it necessary to do for those who had not known Jesus. Those who heard his words saw the richest and fullest life in Him. No words could have made the example plainer.

So he said, "Abide in me." There could have been no doubt in their minds about that. Jesus was the true vine. What was important was that they should keep near Him and his life-filling power. And that is most important for us.

Farm Bureau Holds Meeting

Local Farmers Attend Session at El Dorado

Farm Bureau group agreed that farmers had plenty to occupy them in the farm field now, in the future and especially in 1942. The 85 per cent parity loan program on basic commodities is effective only for one year and terminates June 30, 1942 unless extended by the present congress. It was decided that it was a leading point in the Farm Bureau program to make this 85 per cent parity loan program a permanent fixture in the National Farm Act. The defense emergency is creating new farm problems that must be met as they appear. The group was advised that C. C. O'Neal, national president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, appealed to farm leaders and to all farmers to build their organization to greater and greater strength because it will be needed, every ounce of it, most and every agriculture through the difficult period that confronts us.

In reviewing the accomplishments of the Farm Bureau for the year of 1941 it was shown that the Farm Bureau Legislative program and the Farm Bureau Educational program alone had brought us:

1. Eighty-five per cent parity loan program on basic crops.
2. Increased loan value cotton $28 per bale.
3. Doubled value cottonseed.
4. Spot cotton has doubled in price.
5. Producers of non-basic crops are protected to 85 per cent of parity.
6. Prevented price fixing at less than parity.
7. Provided crop insurance.

In 1942 it is the Farm Bureau challenge to hold the gains made for agriculture during 1941. Farmers must take their case to congress again. It is the essential duty of every Farm Bureau member to secure the army of members necessary to do the job. The future security of farmers is at stake if they fail to make the parity program permanent. Farm Bureau only stands for parity and does not desire to receive for farmers for their commodities payments in excess of parity by legislation.

Many organizations are encouraging that farm prices be pegged above parity but the Farm Bureau has consumers' interest and permanent agriculture at heart and does not desire any program other than parity.

In discussing the results of the meeting and the need for organized Farm Bureau action T. A. Corneliuss, president of local organization recommended to farmers the following statements by I. W. Duggan, Southern director of the A. A. in late summer.

"One-half of the proceeds from a bale of cotton goes to the person furnishing the labor. Out of this return he must pay for his fertilizer and certain other production costs. It takes on the average of 220 man-hours to produce a bale of cotton. Last year with cotton selling around 10 cents a pound or $50 a bale, cotton farmers received less than 1 1/2 cents an hour for producing the 1940 crop."

"Today cotton is selling somewhere around $80 per bale. If this level holds, the cotton farmer will receive about 18 cents per hour for producing the 1941 crop. And he gets no time and half for overtime. Fifteen cents per hour is about one-half the lowest minimum wage in industry. The Southern coal miner today is getting five times the wages the cotton grower receives."

What are the fruits of the Christian life? What does it mean in this sense to be good disciples of the Master? Paul has told all this in the lesson we studied not long ago on "the fruits of the spirit"—love, joy, peace, long-suffering, meekness.

Jesus did not need to list these fruits of the spirit as Paul found it necessary to do for those who had not known Jesus. Those who heard his words saw the richest and fullest life in Him. No words could have made the example plainer.

Grange Picks Northwestern

High Iowa Gets Call in Battle With Minnesota

By RED GRANGE
The Original Man-in-Motion
CHICAGO — Lynn Waldorf must mold a tighter pass defense than Northwestern has exhibited all season to beat Notre Dame in Evansville, Nov. 15.

Unless Northwestern can stop the slingshot thrusts of Angelo Bertolo, Notre Dame's amazing sophomore passer, the Wildcats are apt to suffer the same fate as Navy did in Baltimore.

The game should be a dogfight all the way with one of football's elusive breaks determining the final outcome. I'm casting a faltering vote for the Purple.

Notre Dame took a physical beating at the hands of the Middies. Northwestern had no easy time with Indiana, but it did not have to put forth such an all-out effort.

The Irish were high for Navy. They had the drive and the spirit that good teams have after an unsuccessful game. Notre Dame was disappointed in its showing against Army. The Celts were primed for a killing. Northwestern has been defeated twice. Waldorf has pointed for Notre Dame. Northwestern has a good passer of its own—sophomore Otto Graham.

The young Purple line has come along nicely. Northwestern has a powerful attack with Don Clawson, Bill DeCorvont, Graham and plenty of reserve material.

Minnesota Must Feel Its Schedule

Bernie Bierman's teams at Minnesota are noted for their ability to stay on top, but I'm going "way out on the limb" and pick Iowa to knock the Gophers out of the undefeated ranks.

Minnesota has relied on its stout line to make up for the loss of back Bruce Smith and Herman Frickey. The Gophers had strenuous engagements with Northwestern and Nebraska following their titanic Michigan struggle. They must feel the brunt of their schedule.

Iowa is a young, developing team which has gained momentum following a poor start.

Dr. Eddie Anderson knows what to do with a good passer, and the Hawkeyes have found one in Tommy Farmer. They have a splendid full-back in Bill Green to give them a ground threat as well.

Missouri has a potent ground attack while Oklahoma will depend on the versatile talents of Indian Jack Jacobs. I like the Tigers, but they'll know they've been to the wars.

Michigan Too Much For Frail Columbia

Boston College has been rolling since its defeat by Tulane and Clemson. Paced by a fine halfback, Mike Holovak, the Eagles should turn back Tennessee in Boston.

Michigan will outweigh, out-man and overpower Columbia in New York.

Unbeaten and once-tied Mississippi State has a top-notch back in Blondy Black and should whip Duquesne in a Pittsburgh thriller.

Underrated Harvard, with its powerful forward wall, should turn

They can be washed again and again, except the feathery down ones, by simply swishing them through sudsy lukewarm water until clean, and then rinsing them three or four times in clear lukewarm water.
